

34, 31, 25, 3!

This is not a figure puzzle; it only means that we received per "Australia" this trip—34 RAMBLERS, 31 COLUMBIAS, and are promised 25 more COLUMBIAS chain and 3 COLUMBIAS chainless by next "Australia."

Columbia Model 49, the lightest running, lightest weight and strongest wheel on earth we are selling for $50. The other Columbia chain models will be sold at $60, and the chainless at $85. Ramblers, all models, $50.

You know what Columbias and Ramblers are—they are all right—so treat yourself to a new mount to spin through the year '99 with.

When WE Offer An Article For Sale

And call it something, we're quite sure there's no false label on it; quite sure, indeed, that it is just what we call it, or we wouldn't expect to hold our position in the trade very long.

We haven't labored steadily well on toward the quarter century mark to reach the top in our line of business just to fool away that good name we prize so much on a game of chance like misrepresenting an article of food.

A UNIQUE HONOR.

General McKibben the First United States Military Governor in Cuba.

Brigadier General Chambers McKibben, who temporarily acted as military governor of Santiago and was the first American to hold sway in a Cuban city, achieved a unique distinction. As aid-de-camp to General Shafter he had the honor of first raising the stars and stripes over the city.

General McKibben was born in Chambersburg, Pa., in 1858, and was the youngest of 13 children, four of whom served their country in the army.

General McKibben came of fighting stock and early in the civil war enlisted as a private in the regular army. He was immediately afterward appointed second lieutenant, and his first promotion came to him in 1864, when he was made first lieutenant. He was brevetted captain for gallant services in battle the same year and at the conclusion of the war, deciding to remain in the army, he was promoted to be captain in the Thirty-fifth infantry. In 1892 he became major of the Twenty-fifth infantry, and in 1896 was promoted to the lieutenant colonelcy of the Twenty-first infantry. He held this rank when he went to Cuba. His services at the battle of Santiago were of so distinguished a character that he was specially mentioned in General Shafter's official report. He was among the officers recommended for promotion, and a few days later the president made him a brigadier general of volunteers. General McKibben's home is in California.

Of his three brothers who entered the army General David McKibben served in the Mexican and Indian wars and upon the breaking out of the civil war was appointed assistant field officer to General McClellan. He was brevet brigadier general of the regular army at the close of the war. Another brother, Robert, served with distinction in the civil war, and when it ended was a brevet lieutenant colonel.

CONTRACT LABOR ASSAILED.

defendants are imprisoned denies to them the right of trial by jury, and to that extent, the protection of the Federal Constitution.

"The power to convict an offender in a summary way, without trial by jury, is in restraint of the common law."

4. The Masters and Servants Act makes imprisonment for life a possible punishment for violating its provisions. This is in contravention of Article VIII of the Amendments to the Federal Constitution. Defendants imprisonment is also objectionable as being for an indefinite term.

5. Defendants have not been legally tried.
No person within the jurisdiction of the United States can lawfully be deprived of life, liberty or property, without due process of law.

Defendants have been denied a trial by jury.

6. The contract labor law deprives defendants of the freedom of varying their employment and of adopting any other calling which they may prefer, and this by its own inherent force, without process of law.

7. If it be held that the proceeding under the Masters and Servants Act is civil in substance as well as in form, the law is still in contravention of the Federal Constitution.

It is shown that, in suits at common law, when the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved. And, as the matter involves the liberty of the defendants, it will be regarded as a matter of greater value than the sum named.

8. If defendants have not been duly convicted of a crime, they are in a state of involuntary servitude.

Yesterday the Supreme Court dismissed the appeal of defendant in the suit of J. K. Sumner vs. R. W. Wilcox, affirming the decree appealed from. Kinney, Ballou & McClanahan for plaintiff; Davidson for defendant.

Pahia vs. John Miguel, rehearing of exceptions, was struck off the calendar and remitted to the Second Circuit Court. Dickey for plaintiff; Hous and Neumann for defendant.

On motion of Mr. Henshall for defendant-appellant, Maalo vs. Kalapa was reinstated on the calendar and submitted on briefs Kanekua for plaintiff; Creighton and Henshall for defendant.

E. A. Mott-Smith, administrator of the estate of the late John H. Paty, has filed his final account, the two sides balancing at $9539.35. Among the documents of administration is a waiver by Mrs. Eagan and husband, Mrs. Van Valkenberg and husband, Mrs. Mott-Smith and husband, Kate M. Paty and Lillian B. Paty, relinquishing severally and jointly all right, title, share and interest they are or might be entitled to under the will of decedent, to Julia A. Paty, as the sole and only devisee and legatee under said will.

Your Money's Worth....

That's what you get when you buy HEYWOOD'S SHOES. But your money's worth in shoes doesn't end with good leather. Some dealers think it does; some dealers don't even give that. To good leather we add good workmanship, correct style, perfect fit, absolute comfort to the wearer.

We give polite, careful attention to every customer. It takes a little more time, but it makes good friends.
